5. Our service

We are a credit broker and provide this service, which allows you to compare various options that exist when you are looking for finance.

We work with Providers of financial products ("Providers") that are regulated and authorised to offer the products we advertise.

When you use our service, either via our own website or that of one of the introducer partners we provide services to, we may ask you several questions, some of which are related to your personal information. We may share your answers to these questions with our Providers and they will tell us whether they are willing to offer you their products and if possible what your personal rate of interest ("Guaranteed Rate") is for each of their products. They will also tell us the chance of you being accepted ("Eligibility") for each product if you were to complete a full application with them.

We also work with Credit References Agencies ("CRAs") and may obtain a copy of your credit report data when you use our service. We may use the information contained within this credit report, alongside the answers which you supply to our questions, including your personal information, to calculate your Eligibility and, where possible, your Guaranteed Rate for some of the products we advertise. When the CRAs provide us with a copy of your credit report they will record a "soft search" (sometimes referred to as a "quotation search"), which means the record of that search will not be visible to other third parties and cannot impact your ability to obtain credit in the future. The Providers we share your answers with may themselves also contact the CRAs to obtain a copy of your credit report data for the purposes of determining your Eligibility and, where possible, your Guaranteed Rate for their products and in those cases a "soft search" will be recorded.

As part of our service we may communicate your product offers or information regarding your product offers to you via means such as email, SMS or other electronic messaging systems (e.g. WhatsApp).

One of the questions that we ask you on our form allows us to understand whether you consent to us (a) contacting you to discuss your use of our service and your product offers and (b) sharing your contact details with your top Provider so that they can get in touch with you to discuss their offer. If you answer "yes" to this question we may contact you directly and may also inform the Provider of the offer that is at the top of your initial product offers page and they may then contact you directly. By answering "yes" you are not agreeing to make an application with that Provider, just agreeing that the Provider may contact you to see if they can help.

If you choose to make a full application for any of the products returned to you by us, this will typically involve you doing so directly with the Provider of that product and we will provide you with a link to facilitate that. We may also request some additional personal information from you to support that full application and when you click on the link provided, we may pass all your personal information on to the Provider.

For some products, we manage the full application process on behalf of the Provider. When you make an application for one of those products, we will collect the necessary additional personal information and submit your full application, which may result in "hard searches" being recorded at the CRAs. These hard searches will be visible to other third parties and can impact your ability to obtain credit in the future. Before your full application is submitted you will be requested to supply your consent, which will include a reminder that a "hard search" may be recorded, as well as a link to these terms and conditions.

As part of our service we also operate a car registration lookup service to assist with the process of obtaining your product results when the purpose of your loan is to buy a new car. If you have already located a car you wish to purchase, this service, which is operated by a third party, will allow us to confirm the details of the car you are looking at and obtain other information regarding the car that we may consider alongside your credit report data and your answers to our questions as part of the process for calculating your product results. We may also supply the car registration to our Providers who may then use the same or a similar third-party service to obtain information regarding the car, which may factor into their calculation of your product results.

Our service is provided for free, however we may receive commission payments from the Providers we introduce you to. The commissions we receive can vary depending on which Provider we introduce you to, the amount you borrow and the specific product you take out. Whether or not the Providers are able to offer you the product or service you are looking for is their responsibility and will depend on many factors.

Failing to do this could result in invalid information being displayed to you about the products and in those cases, should you decide to proceed with a full application for one or more of them, the respective Provider(s) will be under no obligation to supply you with the product or they may only be able to offer you a product at terms different to those advertised.

If you are in any doubt as to whether any information is relevant or required to be disclosed or that something may be incorrect you should disclose it to the Provider before you apply for a product.

Information about any car you are looking to purchase

The information on the car may be used when determining your product results, either by us or by the Providers we work with and failing to provide the correct car registration or correct information about the car, or providing information about a car that is not for sale, could result in invalid information being displayed to you.

Third party websites and services

When you use the website of any of the introducer partners we provide services to, or that of any of our product Providers, or apply for one of our product Provider's products, you will be subject to their own terms and conditions, privacy policies and cookie policies, which will be different from ours.
